

Ramblers Stay Even In Chinook League Playoffs

Didsbury Ramblers, playing in the league finals against Red Deer, were not too impressive in their first start against the unbeaten Red Deer Monarchs, when they dropped a one-sided game to the northerners in Olds on Thursday of last week. Right then, the experts were putting the "ten" count on them.

But, playing last Monday evening Ramblers more than displayed the form they are capable of when they handed Red Deer their first loss in the season in league play. They have only been tied once this year, too; by who? — The Didsbury Ramblers.

The game on Monday night was like a lot of hockey games. It was spotty in places — but what hockey game isn't? The point we like is the fact that the local team came through with a well-earned victory, against one of the best intermediate teams in the province.

Red Deer lead 2-1 at the end of the first period, the score was tied at 2-2 when the boys went in for their sandwiches, and Didsbury added three goals in the final period, while the visitors were only able to muster one.

Devine scored, unassisted, for Ramblers in the first period. Twin talked one in the second with assistance from McCoy and B. Jackson. Butch, assisted by L. Neufeld opened the scoring for the locals in the pay-off period, and then Miller McCoy took over and scored what proved to be the winning counter on a break-away. The Red Deer team pulled their goalie in the dying seconds of the game, only to have McCoy score again on a long shot from far in his own zone. Wayne Shantz got credit for assists on the winning and extra goals.

Annual Farmers' Bonspiel Had Biggest Entry Yet

Working against tough curling weather and tough competition, the annual farmers' bonspiel hit the ice on Wednesday, Feb. 27, and the stoppage, due to mild weather, was only a short one.

The teams competing, and a few honored guests, took time out on Wednesday evening to attend a fine banquet in the school auditorium, catered to by the Ladies' Curling Club.

Mr. Wilf Edgar of Innisfail, was guest speaker, ably assisted by Mr. John Currie of Calgary (we have to get a family play in here) came through with some fine 'shots'. The two mentioned above have done a lot of training around with the winter madness and came up with some stories we, of the match-hard rock and artificial ice era find hard to believe. But everyone at the banquet believed it, and we imagine most wished they had been a witness at one or all of the games and shots that were mentioned.

Getting back to the curling itself, the first event was taken by a rink skippered by R. Nuss, with A. Pratt, H. Almonson and G. Gobers giving assistance. H. Shells was the loser in this case; he had Les Shells, P. Schumaker and C. Pratt on his side.

Second event winner was the rink headed by Arnold Hogg, with Ronald Befus, Jack McFarquhar and Alex Hogg following up.

In this case they won over the Ken Gillie skipped rink, who had as assistants Harold Braun, Harold Oke and Art Rothwell.

In the second event the final game was tied coming home. The results tell the story.

Ice Carnival Goes Saturday

As we go to press the weatherman is still "on-side", as far as the Lions Club ice carnival is concerned, and the long-range forecast says it will stay that way.

Anyone interested has already heard about the usual events that will take place, but you are reminded again of the chuck-wagon races. Six entries have already been received and it is rumored they are more to come. This you shouldn't miss. The Lions Club Band have spent several hours in practice and should be in top shape when they hit the ice.

Scottish pipers will have their share of the show as they lead the grand march and fill in a few other holes in the program.

Figure skating will also have top billing on Saturday night, when Anel Skende, 14-year-old Hungarian refugee, will perform. This young lass was runner-up in the Hungarian ladies' open and was one of the better performers at the recently concluded Banff Winter Carnival.

Remember the date, Saturday, March 9th, and the grand parade will start at 7:45 p.m.

Midway News

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The military whist and bingo held at the school Friday evening was very well attended; the record player draw was won by Mrs. L. Cook of Torrington.

About 50 neighbors and relatives gave Mr. and Mrs. Arnold McCulloch and family a house-warming Saturday evening. A three-year venture completed; well done Jean and Arnold.

It's girls we have again; congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hughes, a daughter, 10 lbs. 3 oz. and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McInnes, a daughter, 8 lbs. 4 oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ohlhausen of Calgary were honored on their 40th wedding anniversary Sunday, March 3. The occasion was celebrated by the presence of their immediate family, who gathered at their home in Calgary for a family dinner.

A three-tiered wedding cake decorated the table. Mr. Babe Fuller of Rockyford gave the toast and presented the gift. Cards and congratulations were read and many pictures were taken for remembrance of the happy occasion.

It was also the 18th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hauzer.

Home & School Plan Film Series

Didsbury Home and School Association will meet on Monday, March 11, in the school auditorium at 8 p.m. A colored film strip is presented at each meeting to the class room having the best representation of parents. One of the films will be shown and the teachers explained by one of the intermediate teaching staff, on this occasion.

Another interesting film, especially designed for home and school programs, will also be shown. This title, "Mid Makes His Mark," which depicts a typical teenage youth who is mixed up about his future. He wonders why he should stay in school and try to cooperate with teachers, when there are opportunities for him to work and earn a good salary.

Come and see how Mike gets straightened out, and join in the buzz session for discussion following the film. Lunch as usual.

WESTERDALE NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The annual meeting of the Young People's Club was held on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kershaw with 10 members present. Following completion of the regular business, the election of officers was held, with the following being elected:

President, Mr. D. Landeen; vice-president, Mr. A. Jones; secretary-treasurer, Mr. Ben Kershaw; athletes, Mr. A. Jackson and Mr. J. E. Bolton; social, Mrs. J. Jones, Mrs. D. Landeen, Mrs. W. Herbert; intellectual, Mrs. B. Kershaw and Mrs. A. Jones; spiritual, Mr. W. Nottley; trustees, Mr. W. Herbert, Mr. W. Nottley and Mr. J. E. Bolton.

Mr. W. Gowing of Altario arrived on Sunday to spend a week at the home of his daughter, Mrs. S. Jackson.

Spring could be just around the corner, the starlings have returned, at least a few have. Could be they made a mistake.

Mr. W. Herbert, Mr. R. Jackson, and Mr. Ben Kershaw curled in the farmers' bonspiel in Didsbury last week.

Mr. W. Wasley of Rocky Mountain House spent overnight visit at the F. J. Jackson home on Thursday and Saturday of last week.

The Krebs orchestra will play for a dinner at the hall on Friday, March 15.

Annual Art Exhibit Scheduled For March 16

The annual exhibit of local art, sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, will be held March 16 in the high school auditorium.

This year, 60 water colors from the local artists, will be shown in conjunction with the local exhibit.

Local artists wishing to show pictures must have their names in by March 12th, at the latest, to Mrs. George Mullen.

There will be a junior section this year for students in public and high school, who would like to display work.

All pictures should be framed and ready to hang, if possible, otherwise mounted on heavy cardboard or with wood backing.

A home baking table will be sponsored by the Brownies and Campfire Girls. Tea will be served from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m.

A notice will be raffled, and will be sold on "play in Folkman's window." Members without tickets are asked to pick them up at Folkman's.

Missed It Last Week: Winners in the recently concluded mixed bonspiel were:

First event: Sorenson, followed by the Pratt, Bliss, and Allen rinks in that order.

Second event: Mr. Dubois lead the parade with the Klein, Morris and Kimmel rinks following.

Personnel of the rinks were not made available to our reporter but we imagine that all the winners have informed interested parties of their take-home pay.

Members of the curling club, or former members, are asked to have their boxed rocks removed from in front of the glass, as plans are now underway to extend the waiting 'watch' room and this move cannot be made with the obstruction that now exists.

CHAMPS ONE WEEK: HUMPS THE NEXT

That's just what happens to a curling crew. We won't tell you who they were but we can say the author of this article won't insist on a special edition this week.

Eight-year-old Jesse Camacho, of Kansas City, dressed in his Superman costume, looks through a broken pane in the storm door of the kitchen of his second-floor home after returning from hospital and treatment for a cut nose and arm. He likes to play Superman and was making like him when he "coared" from the kitchen table through the pane in the door. Jesse requires 24 stitches in his arm and four in his nose. Superman was never like this!

IN CASE YOU'RE WONDERING how there could be more books in your home-town community library, you might want to check into the opportunities of The Library Act. Last year, there was an appropriation of $67,000 set aside to administer the Act. A grant system is provided to approved libraries consisting of an establishment grant of $1.00 per capita for regional libraries and annual grants of 35 cents per capita or matching book grants of up to $500 for books and $50 for periodicals.

OIL WELL DRILLING has been called sometimes a risky business from the financing standpoint. It also could be a risky business for the men engaged in production were not regular and extensive safeguards employed by their own safety men. Despite this supervision there is a feeling of responsibility to Alberta citizens on the part of the Department of Industry and Labor, in seeing that these safety factors are present and operating. As result, there is a regular system of inspection, from derrick top to sludge pit, undertaken by inspectors from the department. The result is a remarkably low incidence of accidents for oil workers in this province.

THIS IS ONLY ONE INDUSTRY that has its safety precautions checked and re-checked by the department. All elevators, all factories where there are employees, in fact, all facets of industry in this province have their respective working conditions regularly under the eye of the Department's inspection branch.

Watch for "In Alberta" again next week.

LIGHT YOUR WAY WITH BIBLE STUDY

No doubt you've done it yourself: turned off the alarm and then went back to sleep. It's a bad habit and can sometimes lead to disaster. But do you know that God has placed an alarm clock in the breast of every man, woman, and child? Walk past the street-car conductor without paying your fare, and your heart will throb with the vibrations of that tiny alarm. Tell a lie and, clank, you will hear the warning gong.

Unfortunately it is possible to get into the habit of shutting off this alarm too. Some people have shut off the alarming voice of conscience so often that they can lie, cheat, or steal without ever hearing the alarm go off.

Others have stayed away from church for years, have sown with the world, have neglected care, consistently turned a deaf ear to the pleadings of the Gospel — until they have become utterly unconscious of the sound of the alarm.

Don't turn off your conscience in your sleep. Listen to it! Heed its warning! And then, by all means, get up! "It is high time to awake out of sleep," says St. Paul. And he adds: "Now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation." Open your ears and heart during this Lenten season to God's alarm.

IT'S THE CALIBRE !!!

This story made the rounds in Australia: General McArthur was being subjected to a barrage of questions from his young boy. When the latter asked his father to explain the difference between an ordinary rifle and an M-1 repeating rifle, the general is quoted as saying: "There's quite a difference, son. It's just as if I spoke and then your mother spoke!"

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Permanent health and happiness gained through the spiritual understanding of man's true relationship to God — will be dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon at "Man" is the Golden Text from Romans (8:16): "The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God." Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (24:32-3): "Inasmuch as God is good and the fount of all being, He does not produce moral or physical deformity; therefore such deformity is not real, but is illusion, the mirage of error."

Matthew's account of Christ Jesus' healing of the man sick of palsy, lying in bed (Matthew 9:2-8) will be included in the readings from the King Version of the Bible.

Who Pays For ADVERTISING

NOT the newspaper reader, because he saves both time and money by shopping the wide selection of honest values offered through the advertising columns. NOT the advertiser, because advertising always returns a profit when it is used correctly and consistently! NOT the publisher, because of the hundreds of firms who profitably invest hundreds of thousands of dollars in newspaper advertising!

Every Line of Advertising in The Paper Is Paid For By The Fellow Who Doesn't Advertise !

The business which the non-advertiser loses pays the costs of advertising and ALSO returns a nice profit to the fellow who does advertise! HOPING for more business is not as effective as inviting more business!

WHERE CAN YOU GET CHEAPER AND BETTER ADVERTISING VALUE THAN IN THE DIDSBURY PIONEER, WHICH REACHES 90% OF THE HOMES IN THE DISTRICT AT A COST OF LESS THAN 1/2 CENT PER READER FOR AN ADVERTISEMENT THE SIZE OF THE ONE YOU ARE READING.

Good News For Canada . . .

It looks like the United States is going to have its smallest wheat crop since 1939. Latest figures place the total 1957 crop at 810 million bushels. This won't be enough to meet Uncle Sam's domestic and export needs, so Washington will have to dip into its stockpile of one billion bushels of surplus wheat.

A reduction of American wheat surpluses is comforting news for Canadian wheat farmers. It could help harden the world wheat price and is going in the right direction to a solution of the U.S. surplus problem and all the cut-rate "special deals" Washington has been making over the past few years.

A big American wheat crop this year would have made the present situation much worse for Canadian wheat farmers.

Surplus Should Be Used To Cut National Debt?

It is freely predicted that when Finance Minister Harris brings down his budget he will report a surplus of revenue over expenditures of about $500 million for the year.

Critics of the government say that this indicates taxation far in excess of the government's needs, and they are calling on parliament to condemn it.

During the depression years, when all governments were finding trouble in balancing their budgets, the policy of deficit financing was favored in most countries.

It was argued that, in order to put more money into circulation, the government should spend more than it makes from the people in taxes when times are hard and, when times are good, it should reverse the process and collect more in taxes than it spends. This would enable it to pay off the debts accumulated during the hard times. This seemed like a good idea and when D. C. Abbott was minister of finance he put it into effect.

Times had been hard for many years and the government had been spending more than it collected. Now, things were improving, business was brisk, employment was plentiful, so Mr. Abbott collected more in taxes than the government was spending. This enabled him to make substantial reductions in the public debt.

But even if they are prosperous, people don't like being taxed any more than is necessary. The average Canadian is more concerned about buying something he wants, or paying his personal debts, than about reducing the national debt.

Then the politicians came forward with their plans for state welfare; and soon the idea of reducing the public debt lost its popular appeal. But public debt is like a private room; it gets too big it hampers the debtor and impairs his ability to take care of his own affairs. The time to reduce our debt is when we can do it. We are better able to reduce it now than we might be for a long time to come.

Our credit in the future will depend on our attitude towards our debts today. And we should not deceive ourselves into believing that we will not need to depend on our credit in the future.

If Mr. Harris will use his surplus to reduce the public debt we will find no fault with him for collecting more than enough to cover the day to day expenses of government.

QUOTABLE QUOTE ! ! !
"A man is incomplete until he's married — then he's finished."

SWANBY — RIEDER

The altar of the Evangelical Church, Didsbury, was decorated with ferns and cut flowers for the recent double-ring ceremony on Feb. 14, when Miss Betty Darlene Rieder, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rieder of Carstairs, exchanged vows with Mr. George Arthur Swanby, only son of Mr. T. A. Swanby, and the late Mrs. Swanby of Carstairs. Rev. A. E. Stickle officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length gown of lace and net over satin, which fell over a hooped satin ermine. The bodice had a cowl neckline and featured tiny sequins and tiny point sleeves with satin covered buttons. The silk illusion hip-length veil bordered with lace matching the gown, misted from a coronet of net, sequins and rhinestones. She carried a white Bible, topped with a mauve orchid and streamers of satin and yellow sweetheart roses.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were her three attendants: Mrs. Alex Pratt, sister of the bride, as matron of honor in yellow; Miss Gloria Balderson and Miss Deanna Munro, as bridesmaids, in mauve and blue respectively. They wore similar ballerina-length gowns of net and lace over tulle, draped over hooped ermine, with matching lace jackets, gloves and coronets of net trimmed with rhinestones. They carried colonial bouquets of white split carnations with bows and streamers in contrasting colors.

Best man was Louis Turner of Carstairs. Ushering the guests were Don Konehuh and Clayton Knapp. Miss Sylvia Sawatzky played the wedding music.

During the signing of the register Mr. Bill Rieder, brother of the bride, sang, "I Love You Truly." A reception was held in the church parlor with 80 guests attending. The room was decorated with streamers and bells. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake, flanked with pink tapers. Servers were Patsy Pratt, Wanda Morrison, Alice Fox, Beverly Dench, all of Carstairs; Sheila Morgan and Norma Alexander of Calgary.

During the cutting of the cake, Mr. Bill Rieder sang "True Love." Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Thomas Dench, to which the groom responded.

For a honeymoon trip to Banff the bride changed to a worsted wool suit of turquoise, with beige accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Swanby will make their home in Calgary.

Just For The Record . . .

Perserverance is a gift not granted to everyone, but apparently we in this district have more than our share when we think of, or drive over that trail leading into town from the east. We've waited since 1935 for a promised dividend from the provincial government — do we have to wait the same period for the much-needed roadwork? We'd sooner see them spend our $22 on fixing one of the pot-holes we have to drive over every time our car has the nerve to venture out of town.

Notes From D.A.

By Howard J. Fisher

Seed, both grain and legume, requires treatment before seeding. It is essential for successful crops to have good seed with a strong germination and free of weed seed. Seed grain should be treated to prevent smut and other seed-borne diseases. Treatments which contain mercuric compounds are the best to use.

There are numerous of these products on the market; in all cases instructions on the containers should be closely followed. Mercury is an accumulative poison and when using these products take the necessary precautions to prevent poisonous dusts, etc. entering your body; masks should be worn when treating the grain.

Formaldehyde is used for grain treatment; it is not a recommended practice. Formaldehyde will prevent smut but does not give any protection against other seed-borne diseases. It has a deteriorating effect on germination, will kill weak germination and retard the germination on otherwise good seed.

Legume seed requires inoculation with the correct inoculum. This inoculum contains the bacteria which live in the roots of the legume plant. This bacteria in the legume roots is able to take nitrogen from the air and make it available to the legume plant; this results in a satisfactory stand of legume crop.

When legume seed is treated with this inoculum it should not be mixed with grain treated with any mercuric dust as this will kill the inoculum. Similarly it should not be mixed with fertilizers.

Legume seed may be treated with non-mercuric fungicides, such as Sperton and Arason, if this is to be used it should be done well before seeding and the seed can be inoculated then a few hours before seeding. Arason can be used for treating grass, but should be done at least 24 hours before seeding.

HAIL SUPPRESSION DEAL MOVING NORTH AND SOUTH

Calgary property owners will be watching for the result of a ballot next month among farmers in the Rockyview area.

A plebiscite to pay for a hail suppression test in the Rockyview Municipal District around Calgary is to go to the proprietary electors March 15, officials said last Friday. The ballot, requiring a two-thirds majority, will affect cost of a similar experiment in the city, estimated at $3,840 if it is successful.

Also voting on a hail plebiscite will be property owners in the Red Deer district on March 16.

Also under discussion is a plan to extend the experiment south of Calgary to High River in the Foot-hills district.

Operational headquarters is to be established in Calgary with the latest electronic devices. A static metre control, complete with direction finder, can forecast electrical storms five hours ahead.

THREE "R's" NOT ENOUGH ! !

A Justice of the Supreme Court once said: "The statistics of the courts over which I have presided establish that an overwhelming majority of boys convicted of crime never had any religious instruction."

If that is true then may God have pity on our nation, where thousands of children receive no formal education.

Our children are sent to school every day to be given an education. This education revolves around the basic three R's: reading, 'ritin', and 'ritimetic. Even more important than these three is the fourth "R", religion.

If you are a parent, you have no higher purpose in life than that you first of all become a Christian yourself, and that you do all in your power to permit God to have His way with your children.

Child delinquency? Hardly. Don't try to fool yourself or anyone else. Your child is simply the product of what you have formed. Why not let that fourth "R" help you in your job?

WEDDINGS

CHARLTON — BOUCK

The Cremona United Church was the setting for the afternoon wedding on Saturday, Feb. 18, of Alma Louise Bouck, only daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Albert Bouck, and Mr.
Roy Charlton, son of Mr. Charlton of Carstairs. Rev. A. Magee officiated
at the ceremony.

The bride wore a beautiful gown
of lace net over satin, trimmed with sequins. Her veil was floor-length and her bridal bouquet was
of imitation roses.
Given in marriage by her uncle,
Mr. L. Bouck, the bride had two attendants; Miss Evelyn Bouck, cousin of the bride, and Miss Jean Charlton, in a beautiful gown of pinkish-mauve, sister of the groom.
The flower girls, Carole and Linda McKay, cousins of the bride, wore floor-length gowns of yellow and green.

The groom was attended by Jim Bouck and Frankie Bracken. The grooms were ushered to their places
by Mr. Bruce Bouck and Mr. Jim Bouck.

Mrs. Stan Muller was the plannet and Mrs. B. Bouck sang, "I'll Walk Beside You," during the signing of the register.

The reception was held in the Big Prairie school, where Rev. Magee proposed the toast to the bride.

The happy couple had their pictures taken in Didsbury and then travelled to Calgary for a short honeymoon. They will reside in the Big Prairie district.

TRUE PROGRESS

At a party celebration in Moscow,
a guest discovered a piece of rubber
in his stew. About to protest, he noticed the eye of a secret-police official fixed upon him, and managed a cheerful, "Well, everything is going according to our most optimistic calculations. Here
we've been in power only 35 years and already the automobile is replacing the horse."

WRITING OUR HISTORY

Will Rogers and a friend were talking about the dictionary written by Noah Webster. "He was really famous for his command of the language," said the friend, "his English was perfect." "Mine would be to," replied Rogers, "if I wrote my own dictionary." However perfect or imperfect our history may be, the men on the street are writing it.

This phrase, man on the street,
is used today in referring to people
like you and me, who are never dissatisfied with having an over-abundant initiative. As a group we are not expected to make ourselves
very effective in community, national or international affairs. We are rather supposed to be satisfied to take our lead in these matters from others, who are thought to be better informed. The unfortunate thing about this is that we too often act as if the above valuations
were correct.

The people who are supposed to know of course are the politicians,
the high society leaders, the radio and TV program builders, and their spokesmen. Few, or it may be none in these groups, are leaders either. When we use the term leader we should remember that the term actually implies a person with more knowledge, higher standards, better judgments; more benevolent and more interested in the welfare of all his countrymen, than those he is leading. Who should be more able to choose such a one than the group who is generally supposed most unfit to do so?

In this also, the average Canadian citizen must take part of the blame. Too often we let the whole matter go by default. We raise no protest. We sing dumb when we should as a majority of citizens be having something both positive and practical to say. Being a common citizen of this great land, of which we should all be proud, is a real reason why we should each be a statesman in vision, purpose and action.

We individually have a responsibility to our country, in this respect, a responsibility that no good citizen can ignore. Why should we expect protection from our law enforcing departments if we are too much wrapped up in small matters to be truly interested and active in the welfare of the state.

Reforms that are still making contributions to our well-being began with the "man on the street."
It matters little in what strata of society we belong, nor to what party, so long as we belong. What is important is that we are individuals, and as an individual we each have a value and a responsibility. There is no corporate health, happiness, justice, or wealth, apart from individuals. Many may share a banquet but all must eat as individuals. We may vote with a party but we vote as individuals, for a personal reason. That is a privilege
we all enjoy.

Our interest should not be in any division or party or part of our way of living, but rather in the maximum efficiency of all. Thus we may leave a record the Canadians of tomorrow will be proud to read. Here they will get a perfect reflection of our present sense of values, purposes and ideals; the things that endure.

A number of friends had visited that day at the bedside of a sick man. In the evening he and his wife were alone. He took her hand in his and said, "They will all go, prayer you will stay." After all,
only the supreme things stay.
Cations, planes, ships, and bombs
will in time perish. But our faith in God and man, which has inspired the ideals and principles that have shaped the soul of Canada, will ever live on in a steady-fast devotion to home and country.

"I've found out this says Farmer
John,
That happiness is not bought and sold.
An eluded in a life of waste and hurry,
In nights of pleasure and days of worry,
And wealth isn't all in gold,
Mortgage and stocks, and ten-
per-cent.
But in simple ways and sweet
content,
Few words, pure hearts, and noble
end."
"To this end was I born."

W.C.T.U. HOLDS
REGULAR MEETING

The Frances Willard meeting of the Didsbury W.C.T.U. was held recently at the home of Mrs. Ray Shantz. The president, Mrs. Edna Evy, conducted a varied and interesting program, following the business session.

Mrs. M. Dippel read several testimonials of the life of the founder,

WARBLE FLY CONTROL: As March is now with us stockmen should be checking the backs of cattle for the warble grub. The warble fly is considered to be the most expensive pest of the beef and dairy industry in Alberta. Besides causing cattle to "gad" or stampede in the summer, when the flies
lay their eggs, the grub burrow through the animal's body for months, causing pain, irritation
and unthriftiness.

Packing plants report considerable loss in trimming cysts from valuable back and loin cuts. Cattlemen get a lower price for warble infested cattle, plus a reduction in beef and milk production.

The only practical means of destroying grubs is the use of warble powder. Some districts have a high pressure sprayer available for the spraying of the backs of cattle. For the man who has only a few head of cattle he can treat them by using a stiff brush and a can of warble wash, brushing the material thoroughly and generously over the back and sides of the cattle.

Science has come up with a new method of treatment. This consists of injection or oral administration.
Preliminary results are very encouraging but further research and results are in order before this new method is adopted on a widespread scale.

MORE MONDAY
HOLIDAYS NOW
ON THE WAY

After years of annual proclamations the federal government has finally decided that Victoria Day and Thanksgiving will be permanently fixed, and on a Monday.

No longer will it be necessary to wait for an annual announcement.
Calendars can be printed and holiday plans arranged well in advance.
Most people, and certainly all business, will be grateful.

The day we celebrate Confederation should also be fixed on a Monday, perhaps the first Monday in July.

In this modern age a holiday in the middle of the week is of little use to anyone. It is merely a day on which we stay home from the factory or office. It is not like a holiday added to a weekend, which gives a real break. And for business there is no counting down and costly shut-down in the middle of the week.

DAIRY FARMERS OF CANADA
400 Huron Street, Toronto

Time Now For More Control On Farm Acreage?

When the present crop year ends next July 31 Canada may have a wheat carryover in excess of 600 million bushels. This is well above Canada's average annual production and would be the largest ever experienced. It would be enough to meet domestic needs and probable exports for a full year and with a fairly substantial amount left over.

To assure continuity to Canada's export program it is important to have a reasonable carry-over of wheat at the end of each year, but the large stocks which have accumulated have become an expensive burden for farmers to carry and there is little doubt but what they have a depressing effect on export markets. No one can predict what lies ahead and a couple of short crops could change the picture very markedly, but Canada cannot so on accumulating wheat indefinitely while waiting for nature to take a hand.

It is recognized that the surplus is due to an unprecedented series of high yielding crops and not to an increase in wheat acreage. As a matter of fact, since 1950 prairie farmers have voluntarily cut their wheat acreage by over 20 per cent. They have demonstrated their willingness to work out the problems by themselves, as far as they are able, but they have now gone about as far as they can afford without outside help.

Good farm land can not be left and there is relatively little room left for further diversion of acreage to other crops such as oats, barley, flax and durum without producing further unmanageable surpluses.

The only alternative seems to be seeding some of the wheat acreage down to grasses or legumes, and this takes money.

Delegates at the last annual meeting of the Alberta Wheat Pool passed a resolution urging the federal government to institute a system of incentive payments to encourage farmers to reduce their wheat acreage and seed more forage crops. This is a logical proposal, for it would help cut the burdensome surplus and at the same time it is a sound conservation measure. Some may argue that under this

Newspaper Comments | |

Commenting on the announcement that grasses and legumes would be included in the specified acreage next season, the Winnipeg Free Press says:

"It does not, of course, increase total grain deliveries — only improved sales can do that. But it shares the deliveries among farmers."

"The present system is weighted against the man who grows forage crops as part of an enlightened land use program. On balance, the larger needs of farm policy for the prairies are served by the new program, and it should be welcomed."

Servants . . . Not Masters!

The public interest was extremely well served by the decision of acting Chief Justice Laidlaw, of the Ontario Court of Appeal, in the case of two Toronto men, who sought damages for false arrest and imprisonment, declares The Financial Post. The judge said, in giving his ruling, that the police have no right to force a citizen to identify himself and have not unlimited freedom to lock up members of the public on suspicion.

This judgment, according to counsel for the police, will make police work more difficult. No doubt it may do so, but the community is not being managed and operated for the benefit of the police. They are the servants of the public, not the masters.

If the day ever comes in Canada when anybody at all may be put in jail because a policeman doesn't like the look of his face or his running shoes (in the case here referred to it was a pair of running shoes that attracted police suspicion), then Canada will be a police state; and that means a condition of servility, compliance and oppression that Canadians will certainly not accept.

scheme only the less productive land would be diverted and production would not be greatly altered, but the fact remains that every acre taken out of wheat reduces the West's wheat producing potential. In recent years it is the heavy yields in the areas which are normally dry that have been mainly responsible for the accumulation of our large stocks.

If operated on a purely voluntary basis the acreage reduction might not be large the first year, but at least it would be a step in the right direction. Farmers with large stocks of wheat from previous years still on their farms would be encouraged to take land out of production.

Another big wheat crop would create the most critical storage condition this country has ever known. In the interest of the prairie farmer the federal government should give careful consideration to instituting an acreage reduction program this year, and it should be announced well in advance of seeding.

We failed to announce last week that a Missionary Seminar is being held in the College this entire week. At 8 a.m. Rev. Richard Reilly, general secretary of the United Missionary Society, as well as the chapel hour beginning at 11:15 a.m., will speak on matters pertaining to missionary work. Mr. Reilly has recently toured the African field of missions under the church and has a message of real interest to all. At 8:45 each day, Monday through Thursday, Rev. Carl Lehman will address the students concerning missions also. These meetings are open to all who wish to attend.

On Saturday evening the A Capella Choir, under the direction of Mr. Richard Carpenter, were on the north for Christ program in Central High school, Calgary. They sang several of their numbers. Quartets and trios also brought special songs. The Youth for Christ entertained the choir at supper and Rev. and Mrs. Bob Simpson had them in their home for lunch after the evening service.

On Friday evening of last week the Associated Students Body of the College, under the leadership of their president, Mr. David Archer, entertained the college students and faculty of Canadian Nazarene College, Red Deer. Some 60 young people came. The evening was spent in games, under the leadership of Leonard DelWitt. The Red Deer group brought the devotionals in which a number of songs were given, and Mr. Mulder of the college staff, brought the devotional message. Miss Alvina Reis again superintended the lunch and everyone enjoyed her efforts.

President Taylor was guest speaker in the Bergen United Missionary Church in both services on Sunday.

Miss Sherrill and Master Keith Taylor were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sherrill over the weekend. A group of students went to take the services in the Union Gospel Mission of Calgary Sunday. WHOSE CRAZY ???

A farmer visiting a state mental hospital was strolling about the grounds when he came upon an inmate sprawled restfully under the shade of a tree. After a word of greeting, the man sat up and eyed his visitor with interest.

"What do you do for a living?" "I'm a farmer," answered the visitor.

"Farmer, huh? I used to be a farmer. Darned hard work."

"Sure is," agreed the farmer. "Ever try being crazy?"

"Why, no," said the visitor in surprise.

"You ought to try it sometime," declared the inmate as he lay down in the shade. "Sure beats farming!"
